

Abutalebi Jubin

MD (Italy), PhD (Hong Kong)

Professore associato - Facoltà di Psicologia Università Vita Salute S. Raffaele Milano
Neurologo cognitivista e docente di neuropsicologia

Born in Vienna (Austria) is a Cognitive Neurologist and Associate Professor of Neuropsychology at the Faculty of Psychology, University Vita Salute San Raffaele in Milan.

He graduated with Summa cum Laude at the University of Brescia Medical School in 1998, and specialized with Summa Cum Laude in Neurology at the University Vita Salute San Raffaele in 2003. Prof. Abutalebi has, furthermore, done both clinical and research activities in the Neurology Dept. of the University Vita Salute San Raffaele and abroad in prestigious institutes such as the Dept. of Experimental Neurology at the Charité Hospital, Humboldt Universität Berlin, Germany and the Istitute Universitaire de Gériatrie, Université de Montréal, Canada, and the Faculty of Education at the University of Hong Kong.

From 2004 to 2008, he was a post-Doc and contracted professor at the Psychology Dept. University Vita Salute San Raffaele.

From 2008 to 2014, he was Assistant Professor of Neuropsychology at the Psychology Faculty of the University Vita Salute San Raffaele in Milan, Italy.

Clinically, Prof. Abutalebi is involved in various aspects of neurorehabilitation such as speech therapy with aphasics in the Dept. of Clinical Neurosciences of the San Raffaele Turro Hospital.

Jubin Abutalebi is the editor-in-chief of the prestigious international journal "Bilingualism: Language and Cognition" (Cambridge University Press). <http://journals.cambridge.org/action/displayJournal?jid=bil>

He is also an editorial board member of the "Journal of Neurolinguistics" (Elsevier) and "Cogent Psychology: Developmental Psychology" (Taylor & Francis).
