

Pride

Director: Matthew Warchus
2014 (129')

Pride tells the true story of how a group of lesbian and gay activists joined forces with a small Welsh mining community in 1984, supporting them during their darkest hour. Starring an ensemble cast PRIDE is a warm, joyous film showing the strength and solidarity that can be found when people unite and stand together.

The film is funny, warm-hearted and enormously satisfying. The Hollywood Reporter

This film moves effortlessly from some pretty intense dramatic moments to hilarious scenes showcasing the contrasting lifestyles of the gay and straight worlds to some vignettes of incredible poignancy. Chicago Sun-Times

Vocabulary and expressions:

Weirdo: very strange, odd or not normal.

Quid: a pound sterling.

We raised 200 quid.

To be at a loose end: not sure what you want to do in a particular situation or with your life.

He's at a loose end at the moment.

A poof: A derogatory term for a gay man.

They don't want to take our money because we're poofs.

A snap decision: a decision taken without much consideration or time; a fast, spontaneous decision.

To have or get your head kicked in: To be physically beaten up; to be attacked violently.

A nightcap: an alcoholic drink taken late in the evening before going to bed.

A scab: a person who does not join in a strike or a person who takes the work of another who is on strike.

To go south: To deteriorate or get worse.

It all goes south, doesn't it?

Sod it!: Used to say forget it or I don't care anymore.

In collaborazione con
In Zusammenarbeit mit

